WAR BETWEEN BALKANS AND TURKEY HANGS IN BALANCE

Delay in Powers' intervention increases danger of sudden break

PARIS, Oct. 6.—War or peace between Turkey and the Balkan states is in the balance. If anything, it might be said that the scales swing slightly today against peace, in the sense that every hour's delay in the powers' intervention increases the danger of hostilities. The word now rests with Great Britain.

All the other powers have accepted, with some modification, the French emperor's plan for intervention, but it is understood that Great Britain hesitates in going so far as to assume the other powers' responsibility for securing from Turkey broad reforms in Macedonia.

Great Britain's procrastination is using some unbusiness and some wisdom in Paris. Such papers as the Times say they cannot understand Great Britain's lack of sympathy in the needed Turkish reforms, when in 1876 that country rose up in a body against the so-called Bulgarian atrocities of that year.

Even with England's support, and war is expected to come tomorrow, the crisis is not removed. The great question remains as to whether the powers can obtain extensive enough reforms from Turkey to satisfy the militant Balkan states.

It is stipulated by the portes that the details are to be settled by consultation with the European Rumelian commission, which comprises representatives of Great Britain, France, Germany, Austria, Italy and Russia. Should this statement prove accurate, there will be a good chance that mediation of the powers resulting from the Paris pour parlement may prove effective in preventing war. The Balkan states demand that Christian governors shall be appointed in Macedonia by the great powers.

Article 23 contains no provision of this kind, but it is believed if the powers could give some sort of guarantee that Turkey would carry out the terms of this article, the matter might be accommodated.

Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, has returned to London. He is expected to consult with the cabinet tomorrow in order to prepare Great Britain's reply to Mr. Poincaré's note.

It is believed the British government disapproves of the strong coercion proposed, which was threatened according to the British view, by the statesmen at Paris to compel Turkey to accept the Balkan demands.

Various frontier incidents continue to figure in the reports, but apparently nothing serious enough to precipitate war has happened.

GOVERNMENT TO CONTROL ALL WIRELESS STATIONS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Yielding to the demands of conservationists that coal lands hereafter be leased by the government to private concerns instead of allotted or sold, the Interior department today announced that the plan would be tried.

As a result Van H. Manning, assistant director of the bureau of mines, left for Wyoming to complete the leasing of 2,480 acres to a local corporation.

The experiment, if successful, will mark a revolution in the policy of the government.

The corporation division of mining the coal is to pay $1 per acre and a royalty of six and one-half cents a ton during the first five years and eight cents for the following five years.

After that, the royalty will be fixed by the secretary of the interior, the leasing corporation having the right of renewal up to 30 years in all.

The government will prohibit subleasing, traffic in intoxicants on the premises and destruction or mutilation of the property and will reserve the right to revoke the lease for violation

LONDON, Oct. 6.—What may prove to be an important development in the Balkan problem comes from Constantinople, tonight, in the form of a statement that the portes had announced its willingness to put into execution article 23 of the Berlin treaty relating to a greater measure of self-government for Rumelia and Macedonia.

It is stipulated by the portes that the details are to be settled by consultation with the European Rumelian commission, which comprises representatives of Great Britain, France, Germany, Austria, Italy and Russia.

Should this statement prove accurate, there will be a good chance that mediation of the powers resulting from the Paris pour parlement may prove effective in preventing war. The Balkan states demand that Christian governors shall be appointed in Macedonia by the great powers.

AMERICAN MARINES TAKE TOWN OF LEON

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, Oct. 6.—The town of Leon has surrendered to the American forces. There is reason to believe that no fighting occurred but details of the surrender are lacking.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—In their march on Leon, the last stronghold of the insurgents, the American forces under Lieutenant Colonel Long ousted a rebel mob at Chichigalpa, killing 13 outright and wounding many more.

Five Americans were slightly wounded.

Chichigalpa is on the Nicaraguan Nation railroad, midway between Leon and Corinto.

In reporting the engagement to the navy department today, Rear Admiral Southerton said Lieutenant Colonel Long and his command were trying to secure arms and dynamite bombs in Chichigalpa last Friday morning when they were suddenly surrounded by a mob armed with matches and rifles. Several rebels fired upon the Americans. The fire was returned. Besides killing the 13 rebels and wounding many more, the Americans took four dynamite bombs intended to be used against them.

The act establishes a complete federal control system over radio-communication and requires licensing of all wireless operators crossing state lines, in communication with ships at sea; it will be administered in the west through inspectors at Seattle and San Francisco.

Examinations of operators will be held at the navy yards and certain army posts.

Amateur stations are restricted in wave lengths of transmittal to not exceeding 200 meters. The law is effective December 12.

Losing Weight But Is Gaining Friends

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Gouverneur Johnson, of California today said:

The governor is losing weight. In the six weeks he has been on his speaking tour he has been reduced from 234 to 215 pounds. He says, however, the loss of weight has not affected his strength. The governor's itinerary for this week is not completed. He will make three speeches on Long Island tomorrow night, three in Yonkers, New Rochelle and White Plains Tuesday, and two in Paterson and Jersey City, N. J., Wednesday.

No formal charge has been placed against them. Inlow refused to talk about the case other than to declare that White was to be a witness against him, charged with burglary.

PRICE FIVE CENTS DENVER MAYOR GIVES ADDRESS

G. M. IRWIN AND MRS. J. S. H. J. ARNOLD AT UNITARIAN CHURCH HERE

TALK ON ABOLITION CONSTRUCTIVE CONTEMPT, COMPENSATION ACT AND EIGHT-HOUR BILL

SAYS PROBLEMS OF CITY GOVERNMENT MORE IMPORTANT THAN STATE OR NATION

At the meeting of the open forum last night in the Colleen theater, George M. Irwin spoke against the proposed amendment to the eight-hour bill, constructive contempt, and compensation act.

The amendment does not change the law as regards contempt occurring in the presence of the court, said as disorderly conduct, but refuses to be sworn to testify before it absolutely abolishes all rights now in the courts of publishing newscasters, no matter what they publish, make out or display, by means of cartoons or in any manner, regarding any court cases before the trial begins. It is the intent of the proposed amendment to render the contempt lessened by showing the truth, but abashes the contempt altogether, no matter how flagrant it may be. The press should be free and fearless, but not unbridled.

I will consider the open forum a failure if it is only a beginning and a continuation. We must do the reverse of his speech. I want it to be an illustration of the importance of the proposed amendment.

Everybody deserves justice this day. There are some honest men in city affairs, one of whom made his statement last night, I know of. It is also a crime in itself. I am now working for a Sunday night club that will take care of Saturday night cases and will allow men to get back to work on Monday, instead of losing their jobs and being thrown on city charity.

We are trying to regulate the saloonkeeper to prevent drunkenness as well as to regulate the drinking man.

Mrs. Jennie S. Boyd approved of the proposed masters' compensation act, saying:

"It is largely an act of charity to help the parents who cannot support their own children. The act permits the county or juvenile judge to issue an order on the county commissioners to help the needy mothers. Work houses are provided for men who can but will not work. The act further provides for the boarding in private homes of children committed to the state institutions."

I approve the proposed women's day bill. It does not apply to women working in the homes, but only to women working in manufacturing, mechanical and mercantile establishments, laundry, laundries, restaurants, Justice of the peace, working girls should be passed above any other consideration. This measure, in many cases, are beginning to find out that the girls do better work and more profit in the works, only a reasonable time overloading the body is an ultimate loss to the employer as well as to the worker."

The meeting was well attended and both speakers were asked many questions.

The object of the federated brotherhood will be to take up all questions of a religious nature, social service and civic welfare.

It organized along Seven Lines, the federated brotherhood will do a great deal of good," says Secretary Simmons.

Will Give New Plan Thorough Trial at Request of Conservationists

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, Oct. 6.—The town of Leon has surrendered to the American forces. There is reason to believe that no fighting occurred but details of the surrender are lacking.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—In their assault on Leon, the last stronghold of the insurgents, the American forces under Lieutenant Colonel Leon obtained a record total of 16,000 rounds, killing 140 and wounding many more. Five Americans were slightly wounded.

Chinchigalpa is on the Nicaraguan National railroad, due east between Leon and Corinto.

In reporting the engagement to the navy department house, Rear Admiral Southland said Lieutenant Colonel Leon and his command were trying to seize arms and dominate Leon, but Chinchigalpa had already been captured by a band armed with machine guns and rifles.

Several rebels fled upon the Americans. The fire was return. Besides killing the 12 rebels and wounding many more, the Americans took four dynamite bombs intended to be used against them.

Lieutenant Leon's command consisted of about 1,000 men and subjects from the provinces of California, Nicaragua and Costa Rica. The capitulation of Leon completes Admiral Southland's aggressive program, which has been put through swiftly since the seizure of Granada. Major Leon surrendered.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—Thomas J. Ryan, for many years a Democratic leader in this city, and a prominent promoter of amusement enterprises, ended his life today by shooting himself through the mouth. His body was discovered in his office shortly after he had been discussing business affairs with his private secretary.

Ryan, as head of the Ryan Amusement company of this city, a large stockholder in the American Amusement company, held important concessions in amusement parks in all parts of the country.

Charles P. Donnelly, who was associated with him in many business ventures, as well as sharing the leadership of the Democratic organization in this city, declared tonight that financial difficulties were not responsible for Mr. Ryan's death.

He said it could be ascribed to nothing but a nervous breakdown. According to Mr. Donnelly, Ryan's domestic affairs were ideal.

Arrangements were completed today by which special trains bearing about 4,000 Greek patriots will leave for New York within six hours after the call to arms is received.

A mass meeting was held today at which Consul General Richard de Fontenay made an impassioned appeal, concluding "God save our country and death to the enemy."

Following the address, the audience cheered wildly, embraced, and women wept.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—According to a Constantinople dispatch to the Daily Telegraph, on the advice of the ambassadors of the triple entente, the portes has agreed to the application of Article 23 of the Berlin treaty to vilayets in Rumelia and Macedonia. A Belgrade correspondent reports a suspension of railroad service between Sifontik, Ustip, Tistovatz and Servia by Turkey.

PUEBLO, Oct. 6.—Five hundred Greeks met here today pledging $1,000 reward assisting their home country in case of Balkan war. Further contributions of $1,000 will be raised tomorrow. ## MEN AND WOMEN KILLED BY ZAPATISTA REBELS

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 6. Word was received today of the annihilation of a detachment of rural guards and the treatment of a number of women and children in a fight with Zapatista rebels near Sulitepe yesterday.

The attack of the detachment, three men and a woman, straggled into Tepic today. They said a detachment of 60 rebels, with a number of women and children, stationed on a hill near Sulitepe, was surprised by rebels. A battle lasting three hours was fought.

It seemed as if the rebels might be victorious when their ammunition gave out. The slaughter then began. The men were killed and atrocities were practiced on the women and children. The survivors reported the body of Major Flores of the rurales was first chopped to pieces.

SAYS HE STOLE $75,000: POLICE HAVE NO RECORD

Young Army Clerk Surrenders and Declares Money Was Taken From Australian Government

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 6.—Robert Holt, alias Claxton, surrendered to the Oakland police tonight and confessed that he had stolen $75,000 from the Australian government while employed as a clerk with the Royal Australian Artillery, at Sydney, N. S. W. Holt said he took $20,000 from a safe, and stole and cashed a draft for $50,000.

The thefts, he said, were committed late last February, soon after he became attached to Battery No. 1 of the Royal artillery. The first theft, he said, was not traced to him, and it was only a few days later that he found an opportunity to steal the draft to which, he said, he forged the name of a quartermaster. He sailed for San Francisco early in March.

Rose Miller, a woman whom Holt knew in Sydney, was responsible for his surrender, according to his story to the police.

"I met the woman on the street in San Francisco several days ago," said Holt, "she knew of my taking the money, and I am sure, followed me to the United States. We had a disagreement and she threatened to inform the police. I knew it would be only a question of time until she would do so, and I decided tonight, while in Oakland, to go to the nearest police station and tell my story."

Holt said he enlisted in Sydney in June, 1910, in regiment No. 216. The police have no record of such a theft having been committed.

A Carnegie Ross, the British consul at San Francisco, could not be reached by the police tonight. Holt's story will be laid before him tomorrow.

Mr. Bryan said he watched the governor closely in his five speeches here and sized him up as a first-rate campaigner who adapts himself admirably to his crowds.

"I wouldn't concede any of the western states to Taft or Roosevelt," he said, speaking of the western situation. "I would not pick out any state and concede it to either Taft or Roosevelt. Even in California, I put Roosevelt and Taft in the same class; they may tie for second place. Governor Wilson is gaining strength so rapidly from both sides that he is certain of election by an overwhelming vote."

Mr. Bryan Says He Hasn't Heard.

When Mr. Bryan's attention was called to the fact that some newspapers were speculating as to what cabinet position he might occupy if Governor Wilson were elected, he said: "The newspapers have not as much of importance to discuss then as I have. Of course, we haven't talked about anything like that."

"There is now beginning to dawn all over the United States," said the governor in Mr. Bryan's presence, "the confident expectation of a victory for the people. I do not know what Mr. Bryan's observations have been, but I think I have seen that change within the last 10 days. At any rate, there has been a very profound, and, to me, an unusual change, if I may be personal, with regard to myself."

"A great many people in the United States have regarded me as a very remote and academic person. They do not know how much human nature there has been in me, to give trouble all my life. I have been perfectly aware that at first the crowds that gathered to hear me, gathered in a critical temper to see this novel specimen, to see what this newcomer in national politics looked like, what his paces were, and what his tones of voice and attitudes of mind were."

Likes "Kid" and "Woody."

"I am glad now to see the attitude changing. They have apparently adopted me into the human family. I like to see the enthusiasm of the plainest of men as they approach me, for I consider that the deepest compliment that I can be paid, and when they call me 'Kid' and 'Woody' and all the rest, I know that I am all right."

The conversation turned to the question of which issues people seemed to be most interested in. Mr. Bryan said he found the people of the country most desirous to hear about tariff and the trusts. He said he thought the investigation of campaign funds was fully informing the people of the methods employed by political organizations and of the special groups of individuals they have to fight.

The governor started at 3:15 o'clock toward Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, where he speaks tomorrow. Mr. Bryan left later in the afternoon for a tour of North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa.

SCORES ESCAPE DEATH
IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

FLORENCE, Oct. 6.—With a crash that could be heard for half a mile, Santa Fe freight train No. 263, consisting of 23 loaded coal cars, en route down the steep grade on the Rockvale branch near this city, collided with passenger train No. 625 shortly after 8 o'clock this morning at Cleland station, half a mile from Florence.

C. H. Favorite, a brakeman on the freight, a resident of Pueblo, was the only person seriously hurt. He is thought to be suffering from internal injuries received when he jumped. The other members of the train crew saved themselves by jumping when they realized their danger.

There were 15 passengers in the day coach, all of whom received a severe shaking up. One woman was cut on the cheek by flying glass. How any of them escaped death is a mystery.

The passenger train had just left the station at Florence when the heavy coal train came crashing down the grade and onto the main track in the path of the passenger and headed for it head-on. The impact was such that both tenders of the two trains were forced into the cab. The engineer on the passenger train, named Williams, had reversed his engine when he saw the danger and had already started backwards down the track, but the freight train overtook him in a moment. He stayed with his engine, however, and escaped with a few bruises. Engineer Bryant of the freight jumped and saved himself.

Conductor Claude Elliott of the freight was starting between the first car of the train and the locomotive.

After a few seconds he jumped to safety this car and the second in the train.

He jumped the track and was almost totally demolished. For a distance of half a mile down the track from Cleland switch, the right-of-way was strewn with trucks, car wheels and timber, and one small bridge was torn from its foundations.

COMMERCE COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE CAR FAMINE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Complaints to the interstate commerce commission of serious shortage of freight cars in the middle and far west have brought about an investigation.

It has developed that in Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and other large cities, the condition of freight is serious.

We are informed that in and about New York city 10,000 cars are held loaded with shipments for export," said Commissioner Lane, today. Many of these cars have been there from 30 to 60 days. It is not unlikely that the commission may find it necessary to promulgate a code of rules to govern cars held at ports just as the present demurrage regulations govern the use of cars bearing local shipments."

Roosevelt Confers With Party Leaders

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Oct. 6.—In spite of Colonel Roosevelt's announced intention of seeing no one and talking no politics during his brief period of rest here, he found there were a number of important matters to be adjusted before he leaves on his next campaign tour, and spent most of the afternoon conferring with leaders.

Oscar Straus was one of the earliest arrivals. Colonel Roosevelt had not seen Mr. Straus since his nomination for governor of New York by the Progressive party and the two candidates had a lengthy talk.

Gov. Hirsh Johnson and Colonel Roosevelt told each other of their experiences on their campaign trips.

Walter Brown of Ohio brought a report of conditions in his state. Other visitors included Senator Dixon, George W. Perkins and Frank A. Munsey.

Colonel Roosevelt will leave Oyster Bay for New York shortly after noon tomorrow and at 4 p. m. will start for Michigan, where he is to speak first in his tour through the middle states.

President Taft tonight summed up the political situation in a statement in which he said:

"I have every reason to be satisfied with political conditions. I have been simply overwhelmed for days past with letters and newspaper clippings showing the trend of the tide toward the Republican party, its platform and its candidates. I have been especially gratified by the news from the northward states."

Farmers Are Prosperous.

"The farmers of that part of the Union were never so prosperous, and they do not mean to risk the loss of their prosperity by abandoning the Republican party whose policies have enabled them to prosper. They are convinced that the third term candidate is no longer in the running, and that the choice is between the Republican platform and candidates on the one hand, and on the other hand, the Democratic platform with its plank of a tariff for revenue only; and its candidate, Governor Wilson, who said in an address at Williams Grove, Pa., that the farmer does not need protection."

"It is unnecessary to explain to the farmer what Governor Wilson's very frank declaration would mean, with Mr. Wilson in the White house and a Democratic majority in the capitol."

"The principal reason for the existing prosperity is the assurance that under the Republican policy of home protection and trade expansion, America can industry, while reaching for foreign markets, is not in danger of losing the home market. While our foreign trade is growing more rapidly than at any time in our history, domestic commerce is making advances fully as remarkable."

"Our population is increasing, the demand for the necessities of life is increasing proportionately, and thanks to active business and good wages, the people are able to pay for what they want and to keep our industries busy supplying their wants."

No Industrial Agitation.

"There is no serious danger; I believe, to our institutions from industrial agitations. So long as such agitation keeps within the legal bounds it is not without a wholesome significance and may tend to improve conditions. When it passes beyond the legal limit, whether those self-styled outlaws are connected with capital or with labor, it is a menace to be dealt with by lawful authority."

"Notwithstanding occasional outbreaks of violence in labor disputes, there is a growing tendency to settle differences by peaceful means, and there is undoubtedly manifest a much more friendly and humane attitude on the part of the employers toward employees than was apparent not many years ago."

"Social and economic conditions are growing better, not worse, and Republican policies fostering and stimulating national prosperity, undoubtedly tend toward this betterment. For the men or the community enjoying robust health, quack remedies have little attraction, no matter how vociferously recommended as cure-alls for the body politic."

Praises American Marines.

"Referring to international questions, I think that everyone will agree that the American marines in Nicaragua have conducted themselves in a manner worthy of their flag and their uniform."

That story about sharing the rations with the starving women and children might be expected from such a fine body of men. It emphasizes the timeliness of the assistance given by the request and with the consent of the government of Nicaragua, in putting an end to conditions shocking humanity."

"Mexico seems to be emerging from its troubles, which have probably not been as bad as reported."

"This government has been careful to respect international obligations in dealing with the questions that have arisen in connection with the disorders that have afflicted our southern neighbor, and I have hope and confidence that the patriotic spirit of the Mexican people will lead to complete restoration of the internal peace and harmony essential to their national welfare."

"Conductor Claude Elliott of the freight was starting between the first car of the train and the locomotive.

After a few seconds he jumped to safety this car and the second in the train.

He jumped the track and was almost totally demolished. For a distance of half a mile down the track from Cleland switch, the right-of-way was strewn with trucks, car wheels and timber, and one small bridge was torn from its foundations.

PRESIDENT SUMS UP POLITICAL SITUATION

Says He Finds Especial Satisfaction in Reports From Northern States

DALTON, Mass., Oct. 6.—President and Mrs. Taft and their guest, Miss Mabel Bordman, spent a quiet Sunday here with Senator Crane. The second day of their six-day automobile trip through Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire was in marked contrast to the first. Early tomorrow the presidential party will strike northward into Vermont.

President Taft tonight summed up the political situation in a statement in which he said:

"I have every reason to be satisfied with political conditions. I have been simply overwhelmed for days past with letters and newspaper clippings showing the trend of the tide toward the Republican party, its platform and its candidates. Iron and Steel

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Interest in the steel trade last week continued largely in the placing of rail contracts. A $100,000 shipment, including about 50,000 tons for the St. Paul system; 123,000 for the Pennsylvania; 28,000 for the Erie; 16,000 for the Jersey Central; 35,000 for the Atlantic Coast Line and 10,000 for the Lehigh Valley.

September rail contracts, including 100,000 tons placed last week, aggregate 589,000 tons, making the total for the third quarter 3,180,000 tons. Total since January 1, 326,000 tons. Other railroad equipment contracts placed last week were small but in the third quarter 53,000 cars and 1,252 locomotives were ordered.

Billets and slabs continue inactive and urgent demand with higher prices bid for any tonnage available.

Excitement continued to attend the large transactions in pig iron, with further sharp advance in Bessemer pig in the central west.

Financial Review

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Stock speculation last week continued to manifest the so-called fall over money conditions. No fears are felt that business will suffer from money stringencies.

Mercantile credits stand high. Confidence is felt in the stock market that the process keeps pace strictly with the demand in sight.

Serious account is taken of the threatened war in the Balkans and the decision of the treasury department not to increase the deposit of government funds with the national banks, the decision causing disappointment among speculators.

The fact that the treasury's existing working balance amounts nearly to $80,000,000, continues a formidable lockup of cash at a time when the reasonable requirements are extraordinarily heavy.

The threatened outbreak in the Balkans would place difficulties in the way of further gold imports but great

FIGHTING THE ENEMY

ALL the world loves a winner, it might be said with equal truth that in these modern days the world loves a fighter. This fall in the campaign in El Paso County, we have these two winning elements harmoniously combined and the results in November are practically settled at this time. This does not mean that every man and every woman can rest safely in the knowledge that they are going to win. It means that the fight is on. The women of Colorado Springs must organize and prepare for a battle so strenuous that heretofore only men have been supposed to engage in such things. The men of Colorado Springs, those who believe in government by the people, must prepare to battle shoulder to shoulder with the women voters and when November comes the final result will be so plain that the old machine will get a hint of the power of the people when they are angered and revolt at conditions as brazen and flagrant as they have been in former years in this county.

The county organization is starting out with a vigor that will mean much in the campaign. Chairman James Stewart is going to fight every inch of ground in the county, he is getting his organization well under way at this time and it is the duty of the people to align themselves with him and exert every possible effort in the direction of rendering assistance to him in the campaign. The trustees have err grievously when they suppose that a campaign can be conducted by the county organization alone. Every voter this fall must bear in mind that he is a component part of the fighting strength of The Progressive Party. In other words every man and woman voter is a soldier in the ranks of the county organization and those in charge are simply officers you have directed to lead the fight for you. You cannot stand idly back and leave the battle to the officers alone. F. CHOLMENDLEY THORNTON

THE STRATTON TRUSTEES.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

I am not acquainted with one of the trustees nor do I know anything of the management of the Stratton estate except what all those who run may read, but my sympathies are with the under-dog, especially when he lacks friends.

The town resounds with criticism and abuse, but I hear no acknowledgement of difficulties and achievements without which the former tends to be suggestive of envy and malice.

That the trustees have not had plain sailing, all who care must know. For years the estate was burdened with adverse legislation and unremunerative investments, making its future too uncertain to allow a thought to be given to the practical carrying out of the testator's wishes, because on assured income is the first essential of success.

Fighting their legal battles, the placing of the Rapid Transit on a paying basis while giving to the public a service unequalled in the United States; and the excellent business deal of purchasing the Broadmoor estate as a site for their home, are momentous achievements whatever the cost may have been.

As against fraud and misappropriation the state already has plenipotentiary powers; while in all other matters state interference would not only frustrate the wishes of the testator, but would jeopardize the success of the undertaking. I have the honor to be descended from a race of London's prominent financiers who spent a large proportion of their income in trying to help those who could not help themselves, and I have learnt how hard it was even for those capable, earnest and religious men to distinguish between those who can't and those who won't be self-supporting. When I first heard of Mr. Stratton's will I shook my head at the picture conjured up before my mind's eye of possible pauperization, so I for one consider that the conservative slant of the trustees shows a laudable appreciation of the difficulties ahead of them; moreover I have heard indirectly of efforts on their part to get help and advice of the highest class, which proves that neither their interest is on the wane nor their sense of responsibility lessening. Surely our duty as a community is to help and encourage, not to criticize and condemn without adequate ability or knowledge.

quarters of the American Red Cross and shall cost with the site not less than $700,000.

Of this amount it is proposed that the government shall appropriate $400,000, but none of it would be paid either for site or construction unless plans are approved by a commission consisting of the secretary of war, a representative of the Commandery of the State of New York and the military order of the Loyal Legion and a representative of the American Red Cross. The commission of fine arts must also be satisfied. An attempt to raise the remaining money required will be made with trust in "the chivalry and loyalty of American men," and the Red Cross will assume all cost and responsibility of maintenance after the building is completed and officially turned over to it, though the title to the entire sum will remain with the United States.

There is a beautiful appropriateness in associating these two ideas. The work to which the Red Cross is consecrated is a continuation of the work whose broad foundations were laid in the Civil War. There is the same "divine" spirit working in and through it, but it is not war alone that calls forth its ministrations. The Chelsea fire, the San Francisco earthquake, a Mississippi flood, a Pennsylvania mine disaster, an epidemic, puts its machinery in prompt operation. As Miss Boardman testified, since its reorganization in 1895 it has "rallied for the aid of victims of pestilence, fire, famine, floods and other great calamities more than $7,500,000." During the past six months it has raised a larger amount than the entire cost of the proposed building.

To a predominant extent women are engaged in this work, and the monumental structure would be not only a memorial of their services in a past generation but a continual reminder of what they are constantly engaged in. It would have no mere sentimental value, but would be a just and substantial acknowledgement, even if too long delayed, of the debt the country owes to the noble women of the past and the present. There is also an urgently practical side to the project which is that the room which it will afford is needed for the work in which the Red Cross is engaged, and there should be no question of the speedy adoption of the joint resolution.

THE RACE DOOMED TO BALDNESS.

From the New York American:

If you could open your eyes suddenly 500 years hence you would see many strange things, but perhaps the one that would cause you the most regret would be the universality of bald heads. For, according to Dr. Wells, brain specialist, both men and women will be without a hair on their heads in that highly developed era, and more than that, baldness will be fashionable.

This will be due to the brain activity of the American people, who, with the French, already take the lead in the number of hairless heads. As the brain power develops the supply of hair lessens. Within three centuries the male sex will have smooth pates, and two centuries thereafter, a single hair on a woman's head will be a sign of lack of mentality.

There are two appropriation sections—one of $30,000, to be used in payment of the present indebtedness of the Pueblo Colorado State Fair association and for needed improvements at the Pueblo grounds; and the other, an appropriation of $30,000 for a state fair fund for the years 1913 and 1914. All exhibitions must be held on the fair grounds in Pueblo.

POINTEROUS PERSONAGES.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

Yesterday was the birthday of Jenny Lind, who was a famous singer 60 years ago, and is still remembered—something that has seldom happened to great singers after they have died and their press agents have folded up their typewriters.

Jenny Lind was born in Stockholm, Sweden, October 6, 1820, and began to sing almost immediately. She was a beautiful girl, with a voice which made even loan sharks soft and sentimental when they heard it, and at 30 she was the most famous singer in Europe.

About this time, P. T. Barnum, having tired of elephants temporarily, decided to educate America in music, and he imported Jenny Lind at vast expense to sing in this country. Mr. Barnum made a great many flattering statements about the young lady in the newspapers, on the billboards, on the sidewalk and street cars and blank walls and church steeples and tree trunks and delivery wagons and mountain sides and elsewhere, and as a result, she was met at the dock by almost all of New York city. Her first concert was in Castle Garden, and at its close she could have been elected mayor. That she wasn't, has always continued to be one of New York's greatest misfortunes.

Jenny Lind afterward sang through the entire country and became a great favorite, but unfortunately she was too ignorant of modern methods to utilize her popularity. She did not demand a new contract with tripled price, and overtime for encores, and she did not refuse to come on the stage at night until a purple carpet could be spread through the wings. She did not insist on special trains and individual hotels, and she did not have hysterics and refuse to stir one step when anything happened in the 18 dogs, four tigers and two pet snakes which she didn't carry with her. She did not decline to sing unless all others singers were removed from the vicinity, and she did not have her photograph taken in 11,000 costumes, each one more sparse and embarrassing than the preceding one.

With the exception of the Mount Mitchell tract, this is to be the beginning of the Appalachian national forests.

The Weeks law enacted "that the consent of the congress of the United States is hereby given to each of the several states of the Union to enter into any agreement or compact, not in conflict with the law of the United States, with any other state or states for the purpose of conserving the forests and the water supply of the states entering into such agreement or compact." The law appropriated for 1910 $1,000,000, and for five years thereafter $2,000,000 annually, for use in the examination, survey and acquisition of lands located on the headwaters of navigable streams or those which are being or may be developed for navigable purposes.

With this and with whatever further appropriations it may receive from congress, the commission plans to purchase wide areas in the White mountains and in the Appalachians to form what will be known as the Appalachian national forests. As is the case in the great national forests of the west, all the areas purchased to form this forest will not be immediately contiguous. Of the gross area of the national forests of the west, approximately 13 per cent has been alienated to states and individuals. The commission will require, however, that the areas of the Appalachian forest be sufficiently near together and of such size, individually to permit of their economic and successful administration for the purpose recognized.

Many Tracts Approved.

Besides the Mt. Mitchell tract in North Carolina, the commission has approved to date 288,352 acres on which it holds options. It has fixed the price of this land at $1,600,000. The approved areas lie in North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia and New Hampshire. In North Carolina the total area approved is 53,985 acres. This lies in what is known as the Mt. Mitchell and Nantahala districts. The Mt. Mitchell district includes parts of McDowell, Buncombe, Yancey and Mitchell counties. The Nantahala district lies in Clay, Macon, Swain, Graham and Cherokee counties. The area approved in Tennessee is 58,213 acres and is wholly in the Smoky Mountain district, which takes in parts of Monroe, Blount, Sevier and Cocke counties.

In Virginia the lands approved lie in three districts: The Massanutten district, in Shenandoah, Rockingham, Warren and Page counties; the Natural Bridge district, in Rockbridge, Amherst, Bedford and Botetourt counties; and the White Top district, in Washington, Smyth, Wythe and Grayson counties. The three districts make up 81,140 acres. In Georgia, 24,875 acres have been approved for purchase. What is known as the Georgia district lies in Rabun, Habersham, White, Lumpkin, Union and Towns counties.

The White Mountain district, in New Hampshire, which consists of 72,250 acres, lies in Cheshire and Grafton counties.

Lands of the following classes only have been considered for purchase by the commission:

(1) Timbered lands, including both land and timber, or the land with the timber reserved to the owner under rules laid down for cutting to be agreed upon at the time of the sale; (2) Cut-over or culled lands;

(3) Brush or burnt lands, not bearing merchantable timber in considerable quantities, but covered with a growth of brush which may be useful for watershed protection, and burnt land whether covered with young timber growth or not; (4) Abandoned farm lands, whether remaining cleared or partially covered by timber growth; (5) Lands valuable for agriculture have not been considered, and when such lands occur within areas designated by the commission, they have not been recommended for purchase by the commission.

Aside from providing that the appropriations be applied to the watersheds of navigable streams within states whose legislatures have consented to the acquisition of such lands by the United States, the law does not restrict purchases to particular regions.

The states which have passed the necessary legislation and in which purchases are being considered are

Maine, New Hampshire, Maryland,

Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, South Carolina and Georgia.

Stream Sources Protected.

The source of streams having origin in the Rocky mountains or mountains near to the Pacific coast are already to a large extent protected by national

MEASURES TO BE VOTED ON

AT ELECTION NOV. 5

In order that the voters of El Paso county may familiarize themselves with the proposed laws and amendments to be voted on at the general election November 5, The Gazette intends each day to publish a brief abstract of one of the proposed measures, until the entire 22 have been set forth.

The fifth bill to be voted upon is known as the Pueblo state fair bill. It seeks to turn the state fair, which has been held at Pueblo for a number of years, over to the state, in order that the state itself may have charge of the annual exhibition of its products. The bill creates a state fair board consisting of three members. These members are to be appointed by the governor. In addition to this commission, the governor of the state, president of the state board of agriculture, president of the state board of horticulture, and the president of the School of Mines will be ex-officio members of the board. The board shall have complete charge of the management of all expositions, and from among its membership shall select a president, a vice president, treasurer, secretary and manager. The president, vice president and treasurer shall receive a salary of $6 a day for actual service and actual expenses not to exceed the sum of $300 per annum. The secretary shall receive a salary of $2,000 per annum and expenses not to exceed $200. The secretary shall devote his entire time to the work of the board. The governor and the president of the School of Mines shall receive the actual expenses they incur incident to attending the meetings of the board. The other ex-officio members receive nothing.

The El Paso county Democrats met in convention at the court house. Judge J. H. B. McMurrill presided, and Dr. W. M. Strickler was secretary. The convention indorsed the state Democratic ticket, but declined it impossible and inexpedient to nominate candidates for county offices.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Yesterday was the birthday of Jenny Lind, who was a famous singer 60 years ago, and is still remembered—something that has seldom happened to great singers after they have died and their press agents have folded up their typewriters.

Jenny Lind was born in Stockholm, Sweden, October 6, 1820, and began to sing almost immediately. She was a beautiful girl, with a voice which made even loan sharks soft and sentimental when they heard it, and at 30 she was the most famous singer in Europe.

About this time, P. T. Barnum, having tired of elephants temporarily, decided to educate America in music, and he imported Jenny Lind at vast expense to sing in this country. Mr. Barnum made a great many flattering statements about the young lady in the newspapers, on the billboards, on the sidewalk and street cars and blank walls and church steeples and tree trunks and delivery wagons and mountain sides and elsewhere, and as a result, she was met at the dock by almost all of New York city. Her first concert was in Castle Garden, and at its close she could have been elected mayor. That she wasn't, has always continued to be one of New York's greatest misfortunes.

Jenny Lind afterward sang through the entire country and became a great favorite, but unfortunately she was too ignorant of modern methods to utilize her popularity. She did not demand a new contract with tripled price, and overtime for encores, and she did not refuse to come on the stage at night until a purple carpet could be spread through the wings. She did not insist on special trains and individual hotels, and she did not have hysterics and refuse to stir one step when anything happened in the 18 dogs, four tigers and two pet snakes which she didn't carry with her. She did not decline to sing unless all others singers were removed from the vicinity, and she did not have her photograph taken in 11,000 costumes, each one more sparse and embarrassing than the preceding one.

Had she done all this, Jenny Lind might have become notorious as well as famous, and might have gotten $10,000 a week in vaudeville after the first year.

Proper Mountings in Eyeglasses

The first vital thing in eye-glasses or spectacles is the lenses. They must be fitted just exactly to your eyes. Another point of almost equal importance is the fitting of the nose-piece, the shape of the lenses and their general position in relation to your eyes. We know about those things, and all the other things that go to make perfection in matters optical.

STATE Y. M. C. A. FIELD SECRETARY GIVES TALK

BOY'S ROOSEVELT CLUBS GROWING IN COLORADO

The Rev. J. H. Spencer, pastor of the First Baptist church, addressed the Colorado college vesper services yesterday afternoon, taking for his topic, "The Unity of the Human and the Divine." "Behold I stand at the door and knock," was the text, and the speaker outlined the closer relationship between humanity and God, showing that the trend of intelligence is in that direction. He said in part:

"Some religions have moved God beyond their reach, but ours brings him into close personal contact with the people. Christianity shows complete fusion of the two. The human becomes one with the divine in aspirations and accomplishments. This union is more close and real than anything we know of in this world; more so than the greatest loves of friendship. Christ is more than the historic or the religious Christ—he is the human Christ. As Tennyson said, 'He is closer than breath.'

"We not only go to Christ, but he comes to us in everything about us. In return for his affections we give only our obedience and a sincere desire to know and do his will."

DR. J. A. LEECH DIES

Dr. J. A. Leech, aged 69 years, and for 30 years a resident of Colorado Springs, died at 9:30 o'clock last night at a local hospital, where he had been confined for two or three weeks. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Amanda Leech, and a niece, Miss Laura A. Leech, both of this city, and by a brother, R. L. Leech, of Iowa. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

Dr. Leech was born in Belmont county, Ohio, in 1842. Many years ago he was an alderman here, and also served on the school board. During his residence in Colorado Springs he was associated in practice for several years with the late Dr. T. G. Horn,

WILL NOT LOSE SIGHT

Theodore Roosevelt Montgomery, 8 years old, will not lose his sight, although he may be badly disfigured as a result of the explosion of a bottle of powder with which he was playing last Friday morning at his home, 224 South Wabash avenue. The child is steadily recovering, according to reports from Bethel hospital last night. He was able to sit up yesterday.

DR. SMITH TELLS OF THE HYGIENE CONGRESS

Seventy-five Sunday school workers are expected at the banquet to be given in the Y. M. C. A. next Thursday evening, for the purpose of organizing a graded union. All persons affiliated with Sunday school work in El Paso county are urged to attend, and are asked to notify the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. not later than Wednesday.

The object of the graded union is to give Sunday school workers a course of preparation for one or two years in the study of the Bible methods of instruction, along lines on which graded lessons are issued.

WHIPP TAKEN EAST

F. G. Whipp, former manager of the Isabella mine in the Cripple Creek district, and who had been in the county jail since his arrest last Wednesday in the Rio Grande depot at Colorado City, while acting as substitute agent, was taken yesterday to Lemon, S. D., by Sheriff John Anderson of Perkins county, S. D., to answer charges of embezzlement from the Milwaukee railroad. Mrs. Whipp arrived here yesterday and accompanied her husband east.

Whipp maintains that he is the victim of a conspiracy inspired by jealousy of an official of the railroad. The statement was repeated yesterday that this official had tried to accomplish the downfall of Whipp that a relative might have the position of station agent at Lemon.

Sheriff Anderson said that citizens of Lemon and vicinity will stand by Whipp and are willing to refund any shortage that may exist.

FORFEITS BOND TO GET BACK TO WORK IN DENVER

Matt McCloskey, 50 years old, an itinerant carpenter, forfeited a cash bond of $5 to the police department yesterday morning, rather than lose time by waiting to face a charge of drunkenness in police court this morning. He said he had work in Denver which required his presence there early this morning. McCloskey imbibed too much liquor Saturday and was staggering toward a railroad depot when picked up by the police. He was barely able to walk, falling every few steps.

NOT WELL ENOUGH TO WORK

Thousands of American girls and women are dragging out a weary existence in stores, mills, shops and factories with distressing weakness and derangements which are sapping their very life away.

Such women may find joy in living and be restored to vigorous health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills which has stood the test of time.

Charles Puehler, special field secretary of the Colorado Y. M. C. A. executive committee, addressed the men at the local association building yesterday afternoon. He outlined briefly the work being done in the state, referring particularly to the work for High school students as outlined by Student Secretary Shirer.

A new state secretary will be engaged January 1 and all phases of association activities pushed vigorously. The second week of November has been set as Colorado Y. M. C. A. week for a simultaneous effort in all cities to observe the week of prayer for men and to finish the state budget for 1912.

Mr. Puehler talked yesterday on "How to Be Strong" using as a basis the text from Job: "He that hath clean hands shall be stronger". He said in part:

"No young man can expect to sow his wild oats and not thereby be the worse in character and in a measure unfitted for a successful life. That a man must see and know the seamy side of life in order to be equipped for life, is a fallacy.

"Many a man has fallen into temptation under this delusion. It is just as true as a negative proposition that he that hath unclear hands, a wrong life—shall be weaker and weaker. Be not deceived, God is not mocked. Whatever a man soweth that shall he reap. He that soweth the wind shall reap the whirlwind.

"In athletic life many a man comes to the last lap or last great effort. He strength, and finds, that the reserve power he was counting on is not there, and to his shame realized that it was spent in dissipation and indulgence. The scars that sin leave may be healed over, but their results follow without fail. God's laws are immutable.

"To be strong, first avoid sin. Have it and turn it away. There are times when it is brave to run.

"Second, resist, make no compromise. Resist the devil and he will flee from you."

"Third, never say die. Cultivate a spirit of courage and persistence in the right, and a determination to overcome. Napoleon's guard died, but they never surrendered.

"Fourth, and most important, trust in Christ as an elder brother and friend for the strength to be the man you want to be, to reach your ideal. God in his wisdom provides for the weaknesses of humanity, and his power is to be manifested in our lives. Be strong in the Lord and the power of his right."

Walter Thomas sang a solo, accompanied by Miss Eleanor Thomas.

J. H. Ingledue Goes West; O'Donnell New Secretary

J. H. Ingledue resigned yesterday as secretary-treasurer of Colorado Springs Typographical Union No. 82, and is succeeded by Stephen O'Donnell. Mr. Ingledue leaves this morning for Los Angeles, Cal. He has been connected with The Gazette typographical department for about six years, and in recognition of the esteem in which he is held by his associates, the members of The Gazette chapter yesterday afternoon presented him with a solid silver safety razor in a handsomely engraved silver case. Mr. Ingledue is a prominent member of Colorado Springs Lodge No. 309, B. P. O. E.

Colonel Roosevelt has no more loyal supporters than the boys of Colorado, as shown by the activity of the Roosevelt Boys Boosters clubs in distributing campaign literature, and in using their influence for him.

Colorado Springs is the sixth club organized. The others are at Denver, Boulder, Fort Morgan, Brush and Sterling.

Texan Is Enthusiastic Over Colorado Springs

Robert N. Watkins of Dallas, Tex., chairman of the music committee of the Dallas chamber of commerce, and who has visited a number of leading cities and resorts of the country, is enthusiastic over Colorado Springs. While in the city yesterday he said:

"I certainly am pleased with my first visit to Colorado Springs. The excellent location of the city, and its wide, shaded avenues, with their charming and elegant homes, give an added air of culture and refinement. A visit to Colorado college was very interesting. It is evidently a fine school. Then, too, Colorado Springs has a live Chamber of Commerce, and is fortunate in having good newspapers to tell the public of the good things here."

"Now that I have visited Colorado Springs, I am not surprised at the unique position it holds among the resorts of the country."

DEMENTED OLD MAN IS ACCUSED OF INCENDIARISM

A demented old man, whose name has not been given out, was arrested late yesterday afternoon at Penrose by Town Marshal Harry Delaney as a suspect responsible for five fires there within 48 hours. Suspicion pointing to the old man was strengthened late Saturday night when the Rio Grande depot at Penrose was set afire. The blaze was extinguished without damage. The other fires destroyed barns in which several horses perished.

Town Marshal Delaney had telephoned the Colorado Springs police and a man named Pierson, living near Denver, for bloodhounds to track down suspected incendiaries. After the arrest of the old man the request for the bloodhounds was withdrawn.

THIEVES MAKE HAUL

Thieves yesterday morning broke into the viaduct establishment conducted by Thomas Wallace, located at 402 South Weber street, and secured $36.20 in cash from a wheelbarrow under a counter, and clothing valued at $200. ## Crowds Arrive For World's Series Games

Feverish Fans Ready For Long Vigil
For Tickets--Start Tomorrow

NEW YORK. Oct. 6.—At midnight a crowd of more than 500 persons had gathered at the gates of the Polo grounds to bivouac until the world series ticket sale begins at 9 o'clock in the morning. One small boy had been hugging the gate since late afternoon determined to be the first to get one of the $3 seats. Three women were in the crowd. Many tried to sleep on newspapers spread on the grass.

NEW YORK. Oct. 6.—Mixed in the usual daily throng of arrivals, a scattered vanguard of visitors for the first of the world championship baseball games between the Boston Red Sox and the New York Giants, reached here today.

Although the series does not start until Tuesday afternoon, the big show may be said to begin at 9 a.m. tomorrow, when the Polo grounds will be the scene of a scramble for first chance at the 4,000 reserved seats which are all that are to be placed on public sale in advance. Today's early comers were those expecting to get in line.

A large squad of police will be on hand to see that it is an orderly scramble and the baseball officials have so arranged the sale at different booths that they believe a crush will be avoided. The big early morning crush will be witnessed on the days of the games when 35,000 tickets will be disposed of in first come, first served order. The public is warned of reports that counterfeiters propose to float bogus tickets in the crowds and that anyone who buys a ticket outside the regular booths is "certain" to be fleeced.

Conspicuous among today's arrivals were a number of prominent baseball writers. An extra press box has been provided and more than 100 wires have been strung into the Polo grounds. The players spent today in relaxation from their regular season's work which closed yesterday. The Red Sox returned to Boston during the night after concluding the series in Philadelphia, and the Giants spent the day idling in New York. The latter will have a practice exhibition game against the New York Americans at the Polo grounds tomorrow for an exclusive benefit of the sailors of the visiting Atlantic fleet. The Boston will have a little warming up work at Fenway park in the morning and take an afternoon train for this city.

DE PALMA IMPROVES AND BRAGG DENIES HE CAUSED MIX-UP

DENVER WINS SECOND GAME

MILWAUKEE. Oct. 6.—The condition of Ralph De Palma, who was injured while driving in the Grand Prix automobile road race yesterday, when his car hit the machine being driven by Charles S. Bragg, winner of the race, is said tonight by physicians to be as good as could be expected.

De Palma's main injury consists of an abdominal puncture and unless infection sets in, the chances are bright for his recovery. The patient is conscious but no one is allowed to see him. No bones were fractured. Dr. Palma's mechanician, Tom Alley, left the hospital today. His injuries consisted of a slight fracture of the left shoulder.

Toney Scudelari, who accompanied Bruce Brown on the practice spin last Tuesday which ended in Bruce-Brown's death, was conscious today and his condition is reported favorable.

Bragg Tells of Accident.

Cale S. Bragg, winner of the Grand Prix auto race, tonight issued a statement giving his version of the accident resulting in serious injury to De Palma. The statement in part follows:

"In the rush to get the news of yesterday's accident into print, the accounts of the Aggies and D. U. say report that the game was divided. The offense of both played rugged football, they while the D. U. line was weak, grieved play here October 19.

Northwesterners Make Records

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 6.—The season of 1912 was notable in the Northwestern league for broken records.

The most important new record set was that of Ruth Hall, Myers of the Spokane club, who stole 116 bases, official guide books show that in 20 years the record has not been equaled in any league in organized baseball.

Catcher Waino, Seattle, worked in 188 games, made only seven errors, threw out 188 base runners and averaged .992. Pitcher James, Seattle, won 15 games without a defeat, while the Vancouver club won 16 games straight.

Eleven players in the league batted over the .300 mark. The league's three leading pitchers, James, Seattle; Noyes, Spokane, and Clark, Vancouver. The fielding average of Spokane, .992, is a new league record.

"I was on the Fond du Lac road about one mile from the grave yard turn. I had nearly three minutes lead and only two miles to go and was driving slowly over this narrow, rough and treacherous part of the course. It was right along here that Bruce-Brown was unable to hold his car after blowing out a rear tire. De Palma must have been going a deal faster than I and overtaking me very rapidly, as it was only a few seconds after my mechanic tapped me on the shoulder to let me know that a car was approaching that his car hit the rear of my machine. The country here is a series of small hills, and a car ahead of me behind you constantly bobbing out of sight which probably explains why my mechanic did not see him sooner."

"Although I knew someone was coming, I had not tried to pull to one side of the course to let him by, as there would not have been enough room for him to pass at this point had I given all the room I could."

KENTUCKY ENDURANCE RACE TO BE TODAY FOR $15,000

LOUISVILLE. Oct. 6.—The Kentucky endurance race stake of four miles, said to be the richest American tuff event of the year, will be run at Churchill Downs tomorrow. Eleven horses that have been trained to go the long route are expected to face the barrier.

The purse this year will be $15,000.

SHANNON WINS PRIZE AND $23,000 AT PARIS RACE

PARIS. Oct. 6.—Herman B. Duval's bay colt, Shannon, today won the Prix du Conseil municipal, known as the autumn grand prix over the Longchamps course.

The race which was at one mile and a half was worth $23,000.

August Belmont's Amureux finished fourth.

Final Standings of National and American Leagues

NEW YORK. Oct. 6.—The thirty-eighth annual campaign of the National Baseball League and the twelfth annual American league season closed simultaneously today, with the New York and Boston clubs the respective champions, by the substantial margin of 30 and 22 points over their closest competitors.

The possibility of a tie between Chicago and Pittsburgh for second place in the National League, with Chicago winning the second place bonus, continued up to the last game today, but Pittsburgh saved itself by an overwhelming defeat of Cincinnati, and stands three points ahead of Chicago. The St. Louis and Chicago Americans were the only ones to complete the 154-game schedule, while the New York and Chicago Nationals played the least games of any.

James K. Mr. Hackett's brilliant thespian forth in the intelligent interpretation is strong proof.

It is said James K. Hallinan who will bring to the Grand Opera House Saturday, evening next, October 12, "The Grain of Dust," that the manager has scrupulously planned with a superb company, and that he plays it with a great deal of drama.

The Burns' Wilcox team will leave this city at 2:30 p. m. on Monday, after his address, so that he might not interfere with the attendance at the Marine Band concert, which commences at 3:30 p. m., at the Burns.

Note: The Burns' players are being strengthened by the addition of two splendid actors from Chicago—comedy and ingene. We intend to maintain the highest possible standard of both and players.

"Regeneration" is a comedy drama

FACTS ABOUT

BRITISH WEALTH

From London Avenue.

Within the last few years over 120 millionaires have died in the United Kingdom, between them they have left over one-half billion dollars, or an average of nearly $10,000,000 each.

These vast fortunes, but the income of even the most indulged of millionaires has often coincided with the income of the nation as a whole. Among us, as in England, we inhabitants of the United Kingdom are making out very well.

On the other hand, in the United States there are no millionaires, private property, especially land, public property, and government land, and buildings, etc., are largely held by the state down to the last cent of public property.

How poor Britain's wealth compare with that of old Britain of a century ago? The Empire is small. The British isles is worth just three times as much as the British of 1812. The official estimate of that year made the nation's wealth rather less than $2,000,000,000.

Take a typical factor, we are adding to our cities every year.

The national wealth increases annually by 2 percent.

How much does the English possess in total wealth? Very little in comparison. It is an Englishman as rich as Rockefeller decided to turn all his wealth into golden sovereigns and half-sovereigns, mostly else in the Kingdom would have done. There is nothing to be gained in swindling and half-sovereigns.

What is the English wealth in silver and gold? $200,000,000 in copper and total in all of $150,000,000, which is little in comparison with the national commercial annual income.

The explanation is that paper—in the form of checks, drafts, bonds, etc., places of account, etc.—in our national business. The official estimate is shown by the fact that though British possesses only $100,000,000 worth of checks, money through the London clearing house.

As for the wealth possessed by Britons individually, there are, according to the official estimate, nearly 200 people who are receiving over $40,000 a year; some 500 people are the lucky possessors of incomes of between $20,000 and $40,000; nearly 3,000 people have incomes of from $10,000 to $20,000, while those who get from $5,000 to $10,000 a year number about 7,000.

In all, between 11,000 and 12,000 people are in the enjoyment of incomes of over $5,000 a year.

To deal with less fortunate people, there are some 1,200,000 income-tax payers—1,200,000 people, that is, are in receipt of incomes or salaries of less than a cent a day. The average person in receipt of an income of over $100 a year before tax who are making between $1700 and $5,000, and 50 whose incomes lie between $100 and $100.

The great majority of people, of course, have to earn their own living.

The lucky few who live on their private means amount to some $50,000,000, a word, those who do not need to work for a livelihood could easily be put into the city of Leeds.

A curious fact shows the difference between the United of today and the Britain of 1812. In 1812 the era of manufacture had scarcely begun; the rich class was practically confined to the great landowners.

PASTOR RUSSELL AT ILLINOIS STATE FAIR

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 6.—Pastor Russell arrived yesterday, the guest of the state board. In his evening address the text was taken from Philippians vii, 10, 12: "At the name of Jesus every knee shall bow and every tongue confess."

Pastor Russell drew attention to the fact that for half a century the world has been undergoing a most marvelous evolution along the lines of increase of knowledge. He referred briefly to the share of Illinois in this onward march of intelligence, invention and betterment of life's condition. This, he said, is plainly manifest in this fair in the wonderful display of manufacturers, labor-saving devices, etc.

He remarked on the school exhibitions and what they indicate of the progress of general knowledge amongst all classes—seen amongst the very young. He remarked also on the improved breed of stock—cattle, horses, sheep, swine, poultry, etc. This progress belongs to the last 50 years. It is marvelous. The fruits and vegetables also, which are entered for the prizes, he declared, remind one of paradise, and lead us to wonder whether or not there could have been more nearly perfect fruit and vegetables there.

What do these things mean? he queried. His answer was that they are corroborative of the Bible testimony that we are at the threshold of judgment, depicted in the scriptures. "The height of Christ for a thousand years." Our blessings are the forewarnings of coming blessings, which undoubtedly will be many-fold greater. The scriptures, he declared, tell not only of the six great days of the reign of sin and death (each day a thousand years), but also of the great seventh day of a thousand years—the Sabbath of rest from toil and sweat of face, the rest of Moses, when the roundness away of the curse and the pouring out of God's blessing.

So accustomed have we become to the reign of sin and death that many incline to think it the normal condition. But not so. In heaven there is no sickness, sorrow, sighing, crying orailing, for there is no sin there. And the little evidences that there will be none of these evidences of the curse here on earth at the close of Messiah's reign.

"Every Knee Shall Bow." Esther's disobedience and sin brought her curse. "Dying though such day." We are a dying race, morally, morally, physically.

"In God's Due Time."

God would have sent about the reign of evil. Long ago the omnipotent One could have found in destroyed Satan and rebellious to the divine arrangements. On the contrary, God has permitted it and great reason for a certain time, until he is ready to establish His kingdom. The foundation of all the coming blessings rests upon the sacrifice of Jesus at Calvary. For the first direct result has been the scattering of the church, the elect, the saints, from every nation and denomination. These scattered, persecuted in the first resurrection, will constitute the kingdom class, the bride of Christ, constituted in the Kingdom in the glorified body of the everlasting future.

Many of us have now accepted the gospel of Christ fully with the pastor. We are taught to be good, morally, to love the church, but not the world.

The apostle says, "He is indeed the redeemer for the whole race, and not for ours only, but for all the world." John 3:17. He is bringing his born again children of the world, comprising them, according to his association in the kingdom, into his body, and using them as messengers in his great work of blessedness.
